

SAT scores for entering freshmen at public baccalaureate institutions in Washington

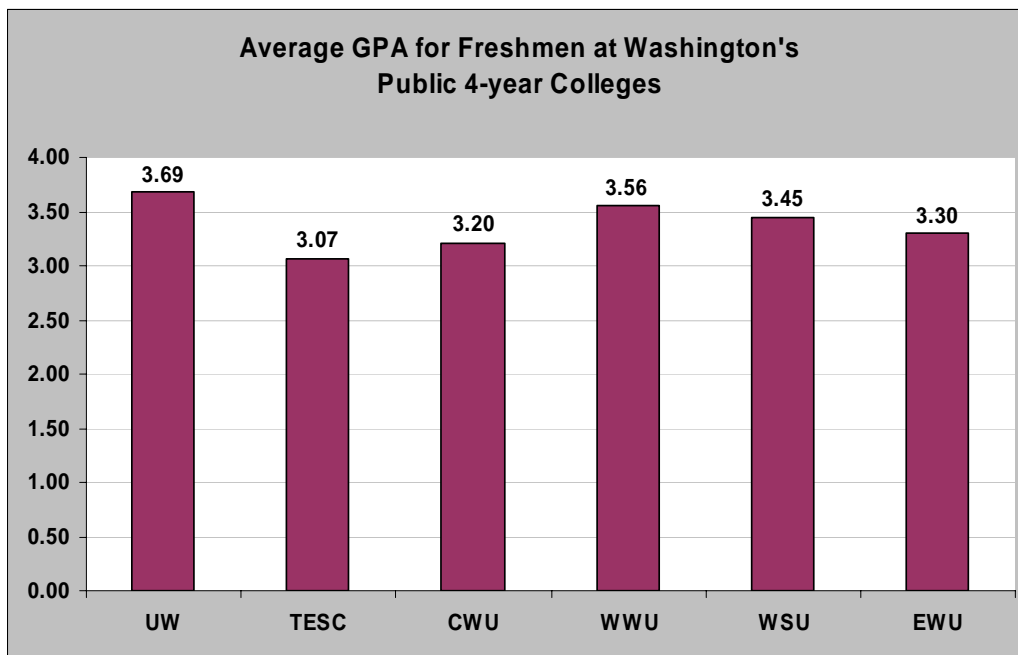

Of the six public baccalaureate colleges in Washington in Fall 2005, Evergreen and UW freshmen had the highest middle 50% range for the verbal SAT. (This means that half of the entering class scored between 530 and 650 on the verbal SAT). Evergreen's middle 50% for the math SAT was 480 to 600 (higher than CWU and EWU's new freshmen; lower than UW, WWU and WSU freshmen).

In Fall 2005 Evergreen's new freshmen had the highest average verbal SAT score of the six public baccalaureates. The average math SAT score for Evergreen freshmen mirrors the above with Evergreen freshmen ranking fourth.

Source: The data above was compiled from The Princeton Review college profile data as of 1/2/07 <http://www.princetonreview.com/home.asp>

Grade point averages for entering freshmen at Washington's public baccalaureates

Source: The data above was compiled from The Princeton Review college profile data as of 1/2/07 <http://www.princetonreview.com/home.asp>