NEW STUDENT ORIENTATION

SEPTEMBER 16-24, 2006

THE EVERGREEN STATE COLLEGE, OLYMPIA, WASHINGTON

THE WEEK AT A GLANCE

How the Schedule Works

This schedule has been designed to help you plan your week, attend to important business matters, and most importantly, meet other students. At the beginning of each day, you will see the times college offices are open for your business transactions as well as those of the Writing and Quantitative Reasoning centers.

The second half of the day's schedule is devoted to academic support workshops and on and off-campus activities aimed at helping you settle in. Each day, workshop offerings will introduce you to some of the important teaching and learning skills you will need to know at Evergreen. We highly recommend you attend as many of these workshops as possible, as well as join in the social and fun campus community activities

Family and Friends Weekend

Saturday and Sunday, September 16 - 17

The opening weekend of Orientation Week -- September 16 and 17 -- has been designed to acquaint your family and friends with the College. Over these two days they will have opportunities to talk with parents of currently enrolled Evergreen students, tour the campus, and participate in workshops and special interest sessions. A special brunch will feature Evergreen President Thomas Purce, Vice President Art Costantino, and Academic Dean Eddy Brown. The start of your academic career in higher education is important not only for you, but also for those who will support you over the years. Times and locations of events are on pages 5 through 7.

New Student Orientation Week

Monday - Sunday, September 18 - 24

This week is filled with carefully planned activities and events in academic and social venues, all of which will bring you into contact with other new students as well as continuing students, faculty and staff. During New Student Orientation Week, you will learn about:

- Your academic program and learning communities
- Navigating the curriculum
- Getting the most out of the seminar experience
- Engaging in service learning activities
- The importance of diversity
- The Evergreen Social Contract and Student Conduct Code
- Ways to get involved in co-curricular and student activities
- Student services available to support your success
- Places to explore in Olympia and the beautiful Northwest
- Self care and responsibilities as members of the Evergreen Community

ORIENTATION WEEK HIGHLIGHTS

Quick Question Kiosk

Red Square: Saturday, September 16, 11 am - 2 pm

Do you have a quick question? Or one that is unique to your particular circumstance or situation? The Quick Question Kiosk, staffed by Student Affairs Practitioners, has been designed as a resource to provide answers and referrals for students, their families and friends who have a quick question or one that is more comfortably asked in a "one on one" setting.

Orientation Guides Information Table

Red Square: Saturday - Wednesday, September 16 - 20, see schedule for specific times

Orientation Guides Information Table is staffed by Evergreen students who will assist you with any questions you have throughout Orientation Week. Guides will have pamphlets for on and off campus resources and activities. Want to navigate the Northwest via bus and ferries? Want to find out where to get some last minute supplies? Where to do your grocery shopping? Take a hike in the Olympic National Forest? Come and get detailed information from experienced Evergreen students who are actively involved in campus life, as well as in the greater Olympia community.

New Student Advising Workshops

Seminar II D1107: Monday – Thursday, Sept. 18 - 21, 12:30 – 2 pm

Each new student must attend an academic advising workshop. These workshops will orient you to the Evergreen curriculum, the advising process, available resources, and answer any remaining questions regarding the registration process or other aspects of college life. You will also develop a preliminary written academic plan. Contact Academic Advising at (360) 867-6312 if you have any questions.

International Student Orientation

Seminar II A2107: Friday, Sept. 15, 1 – 5 pm

Representatives from various campus service centers will welcome our new international students.

Student On-Line Services

General Computing Classroom: Library Bldg. L-2600 Tuesday-Thursday, Sept. 19-21, 2pm-3pm

In this hands-on workshop, we will explore the Student Gateway on-line system. The Gateway is where students register for classes, update contact information, review account and financial aid information, pay tuition and fees, create enrollment verification reports, write and store self-evaluations, search for internship and job opportunities, and much more.

Evening and Weekend Studies Orientation

Seminar II E1105

Monday, September 18, 6 - 8 pm

An introduction to the resources and curriculum designed especially for Evening and Weekend Studies students. Meet staff from Evening and Weekend Studies, Academic Advising, Registration and the Career Development Center to learn how Evergreen serves working adults.

All-Student Convocation

Friday, September 22, 2:00 - 3:30 pm

The Longhouse

Celebrate with other Evergreen students, faculty and staff at All-Student Convocation, which marks the start of the academic year. Don't miss the fun, refreshments, and door prizes!

Community to Community: A service learning project

Sponsored by the Center for Community-Based Learning and Action

Wednesday, September 20, 12:00 – 5:00 pm

Meet in Red Square by base of the Clock Tower 12:00 noon for sign-ups!

Orientation week project is a Greener tradition! Come explore your community by serving with one of Olympia's local organizations for an afternoon. Transportation to and from the site is provided. The bus departs promptly at 12:30pm. Please pick up lunch from the Greenery to take with you on the bus. For more information, pick up a Community to Community Information Sheet at the Orientation Guides Information Table on Red Square. Contact Access Services if you need assistance: (360) 867-6348. Be sure to wear sturdy clothes, shoes and sunscreen, as these projects will be outdoors.

Projects this year include:

- Habitat for Humanity- South Puget Sound Habitat for Humanity works in partnership with those in need of affordable housing in the Olympia area.
- The Gleaners Coalition-The Gleaners Coalition gathers food from local organic farms and gardens and distributes it to low and no income community members.
- USDA-Harvest native plants from an area where they are invasive and plant them again in an area where they are needed for riverbank stabilization.

Off-Campus Trips

Sponsored by The Outdoor Program (TOP)

Thursday & Saturday, September 21 & 23

Sign up at the College Recreation Center (CRC)

Meet new people and become familiar with the beautiful Pacific Northwest surroundings. Sign-ups for trips will be available during Orientation Week. Please stop by the College Recreation Center (CRC) starting on Monday, September 18 to register for these exciting off-campus trips. Contact Access Services if you need assistance: (360) 867-6348.
